Last Friday it was Military Appreciation Night at Centerville Stadium. Head Coach Brent Ullery compared playing this game to the sacrifices our military made in his pre-game speech. "It is not do or die, tonight. For the guys who wore the colors that you are wearing tonight, it was do or die! This game does a phenomenal job of teaching you about life. If you take one thing away from this game, not only from this program, but this game, is that you live with passion men. You live with passion!"

The players were literally on the edge of the chairs, listening to Coach Ullery's challenge. "Play tonight with great passion, for your success, for the success for those around you, and for your teammates. Bring passion to everything you do!"

The Elks accepted the challenge, executed with great passion, and Centerville celebrated a 37-6 GWOC victory over Northmont.

Wide Receiver, Nic Bruder, scored with only 15 seconds off the clock on 71 yard reception that set the stage for the Elks dominant 37-6 victory. The Centerville offense had their best outing of the season, with 413 total yards, including 319 passing yards on the strength of Quarterback Drake Wells right arm. Drake completed 20 of 33 pass attempts with three touchdowns on his way to his best QB rating (165.7) of the year. Running back Emable Wakilongo added a touchdown run in the fourth to close out the scoring.

The Elks "Black Shirt" defense held the previously GWOC number one offense, which averaged 41 points a game, to only 6 points. An excellent effort and overall team win. It is obvious this 2022 defense plays with a passion and purpose.

This was the twenty-second meeting between these schools since 1973. The series record is now 15 wins for the Elks and 7 wins for Northmont. This win was the second win in a row after last season's 38-0 shutout. It was also a two win weekend as the Freshmen won at Northmont Saturday morning. (The JV game was cancelled).

It does not get any easier this week as the Elks travel to Springboro to continue their run through the GWOC gauntlet. Springboro is 4-1 coming off a second half, comeback victory at Fairmont, (see page 5). The Panthers only loss was to 4-1 Cincinnati Elder in a close one 20-21. The word on the street is that the Panthers want pay-back from two Elk beat downs in 2021.

We need Elk Nation to be there this Friday night to help the boys get three in a row. The weather will be great for football, so head south, and we will see you at Care Flight Field.

GO ELKS, BEAT THE PANTHERS!!

Inside the Headset

What was most satisfying about the Northmont victory last week?

“That's easy. Watching our kids play with great passion and our coaches coach with great passion. Everyone emptied the tank and gave great effort. We weren't perfect in our execution, but we played fast and coaches made great decisions quickly to help the team. It was impressive to watch. I think the effort, energy, and passion that we played the game last Friday made it hard for Northmont to catch back up.”

Springboro is 4-1, with their only loss to Cincinnati Elder. How do the Elks matchup against the Panthers?

“Springboro lost a very close game with Elder in which they left a few plays on the field and easily could've won. Elder is a tremendous team and Springboro made a statement in that game. Us and Springboro are very similar. Both defenses are very well coached and seem to have players in the right place at the right time. Both teams have offenses that have a system, but also have built-in answers. Lastly, both teams know the importance of special teams and how they can swing a game. We will have to be better in all three phases to come home with a win on Friday.”

Who are some of Springboro's key players?

“The QB, Ruzzo is a really nice player. He was a running back last year and he can cause problems with the ball in his hand. The offensive line does a nice job of opening holes for him and he knows how to carry the ball. They also have a running back, Yates, that has impressive speed and can create separation. On defense, they have a returning linebacker, Smith, that is a nice player and a defensive back, Standifer, that seems to create turnovers and is always around the ball. Lastly, they have a defensive lineman, Messinger, that also plays offense and can do a lot to help make them successful.”

You have a passion for the game? What is the best part about competing?

“The best part about competition is the pressure. I'm not sure it's really competition without pressure. You have pressure to perform, pressure to think quickly and react, and there is tons of pressure to prepare properly. It's more fun when the competition is high, the pressure is high, things are happening quickly, and it's pure chaos. Competition isn't just reserved for game night. All of these things need to be present every day. If you aren't competing against yourself, day in and day out, you aren't really competing. You can't save competition for Friday nights.”

What are the position dinners? When did that tradition start?

“I'm not really sure when they started. They weren't a thing when I played here. When I played here, we all got together, went to Hungry Howie's and used our value cards to get pizza, and then went to the soccer game or volleyball game. Position dinners started sometime after I graduated and were used as a Wednesday night time for the players to get together, by position, have a meal at someone's house, and hang out with each other. It has since evolved to include many positions at a dinner. Coaches aren't present at them very often. It seems to be a team-bonding thing that happens outside of football. Position dinners are not organized or coordinated by the program.”

CENTERVILLE — Three parachutists swooped onto the turf at Centerville Stadium before the game against Northmont on Friday. Their grand entrance was overshadowed by the Elks moments later.

Centerville quarterback Drake Wells threw a 71-yard touchdown pass to Nic Bruder on the first play of the game — after 16 seconds had elapsed — to set the tone in a 37-6 victory.

“It was a big play,” Wells said. “I see the script and it’s a deep pass to Nic. That’s what I love to see. Nic loves to see it. We talked about it all day, and we hit it.”

“Great pass from Drake Wells,” Centerville coach Brent Ullery said. “Great protection from the offensive line. Nic Bruder just finished the job. That flipped the game big time right away, and I think there was a little bit of shock for (Northmont).”

Wells completed 20 of 33 passes for 319 yards with three touchdowns and an interception. He has six touchdown passes and two touchdown runs in five games.

The victory gives Centerville its first 5-0 record since 2017.

“It means a lot,” Wells said, “considering the stuff we heard in the preseason about how we lost some people. It’s good to prove what we can do.”

Two games into the Greater Western Ohio Conference schedule, Centerville and Springfield (4-0) are unbeaten and 2-0 in the conference. Springboro (4-1) is also 2-0 in GWOC.

Northmont (4-1) suffered its first loss after three straight shutouts. This was its second straight game against an undefeated team. It knocked Fairmont from the ranks of the unbeaten in Week 4, winning 28-0. It outscored its first four opponents 164-13.

Centerville beat Northmont for the second straight season. The Elks won 38-0 last season.

“They did a really nice job,” Northmont coach Tony Broering said. “They exploited some weaknesses in our secondary, and their defense did a really good job kind of negating our weapons on offense.”

There was a scary moment in the third quarter when Northmont running back Noah McClure was put on a backboard and taken away in an ambulance. Broering said McClure hit his head on the turf, and they expect him to be OK.

Northmont scored its only touchdown on a 9-yard run by quarterback Cahke’ Cortner on its first possession. Then a botched punt led to a safety for Centerville and a 9-6 lead in the first quarter.

In the second quarter, Wells threw a 19-yard TD pass to Bryce Cowgill, who had five catches for 54 yards. With 57 seconds left in the half, Wells scored on a 1-yard run on fourth down to give Centerville a 23-6 halftime lead.

Bruder, who finished with four receptions for 105 yards, caught another touchdown with 1:04 left in the third quarter, this one on an 8-yard pass from Wells. That gave the Elks a 30-6 lead.

Enable Wakilongo, who rushed 19 times for 85 yards, scored Centerville’s final touchdown on a 1-yard run in the fourth quarter. Jamar Montgomery added six catches for 94 yards for the Elks.

Centerville plays at Springboro in Week 6.

SPRINGBORO 21, FAIRMONT 19

Second-half surge pushes Panthers past Firebirds

By Eric Frantz
Contributing Writer

KETTERING — Staring at a 13-0 deficit on the road following a first half in which it gained just 20 yards and zero first downs on four possessions, Springboro's offense — ranked No. 1 in the Greater Western Ohio Conference (averaging 395 yards a game) — had a decision to make.

Fight or fold?
The Panthers chose the latter.

Scoring on its first three possessions of the second half, Springboro rallied for a 21-19 win over host Fairmont on homecoming at Roush Stadium.

The Panthers improve to 4-1 overall and 2-0 in the GWOC, while Fairmont, after opening with wins over Alter, Trotwood-Madison and LaSalle, drops to 3-2 (0-2). The Firebirds lost 28-0 at Northmont last week.

"We came in (at half) and we challenged everybody — not just the guys up front," Springboro head coach Ryan Whilite said. "We were going to run the football and we were going to block the perimeter. They answered with a resounding 'We got fight in us.'"

"We haven't been in this position this year," Springboro senior quarterback Evan Ruzzo said. "We've been up on teams and they've come back, so we knew we could do the same. We knew we still had fight in us. We put that first half behind us and just kept on rolling."

Ruzzo ran for a 1-yard touchdown and threw two touchdown passes covering 26 and 40 yards to senior Peyton Howard. The last of those hook-ups came on the first play of the fourth quarter and propelled Springboro to a 21-13 lead with 11:49 to play.

Fairmont answered with an 18-play drive that took 10:12 and was capped by a 4-yard run by junior Asa Dunlevey with 1:37 left. The ensuing two-point conversion pass was incomplete.

Ruzzo recovered Fairmont's onside kick.

The Firebirds built their first half lead via special teams. Junior Kameron Payne returned the opening kickoff 86 yards for a touchdown and senior Will Holt booted 26- and 40-yard field goals.

"I felt like defensively we played a decent first half," Whilite said. "Offensively we lacked physicality."

Boro's second-half drives covered 57, 80 and 49 yards.

Ruzzo, who entered as the GWOC's No. 2 rusher and No. 3 passer, carried the ball 16 times for 34 yards. He completed 9-of-13 passes for 121 yards. Howard caught four passes for 89 yards. Defensively, Zach Wells led Springboro with 15 tackles, while Connor Smith registered 10.

Fairmont senior Drew Baker, the GWOC's leading rusher, paced the Firebirds with 115 yards on 34 carries.

Springboro had 205 yards of offense. Fairmont had 203 (all on the ground). The game was the 10th meeting between the two schools since 2000 and squared the series at 5-5. Springboro won 15-14 last year, while Fairmont won 10-7 in 2020.

Springboro's early-season slate — including a narrow 21-20 loss to Elder in Week 3 — helped fuel its second-half comeback.

"We grew from that (Elder loss)," Whilite said. "And in our opener against Lebanon and in Week 2 against Withrow, we took sizeable leads into halftime and we didn't play very well in the second half and hung on to win. We have talked a lot about playing a second half and how important that is. Today our back was against the wall. We had no choice. We were either going to get run out the stadium or we were going to compete. We came out and competed."

Said Ruzzo: "We're never going to give up until that clock hits zero."

It doesn't matter how many players are lost to graduation or positions that need to be filled on a yearly basis you can always bank on Springboro teams led by head coach Ryan Wilhite to be a handful to deal with. The Panthers have only had two losing seasons in his 16 years at the helm and none in the last 10 campaigns.

Springboro will look to its experienced defense to set the tone. Expect the Panthers to improve on the on the 22.8 points that they allowed in 2021.

On offense, Springboro will be adjusting to a having a quarterback that can run as well as pass in its spread attack. "We'll be a different style of team offensively than in previous years with a dual threat quarterback rather than a drop back guy like we've played with in most seasons. We are excited for the challenge," Wilhite states.

The GWOC is as deep as it has ever been. Getting through that gauntlet in conference play isn't going to be easy. When the smoke clears Springboro should still be marching to the playoffs for the ninth time in the last 11 seasons.

HONOR ROLL

Evan Ruzzo, Sr, QB – Moves to quarterback after running for a team high 972 yards and nine touchdowns as a junior. That effort earned Ruzzo OPSWA Division I Honorable Mention All-Southwest District accolades.

Connor Smith, Jr, LB – Had a breakout sophomore campaign with 89 total tackles and one-and-a-half sacks. Smith was named OPSWA Division I Honorable Mention All-Southwest District for his efforts.

Matthew Appel, Sr, OL – The leader up front of a young o-line. The 6-foot-4, 240-pound Appel was named Second Team All-GWOC as a junior. He has verbally committed to Navy.

Cade Lamb, Sr, WR/DB – Stepped up as a junior and will be a vital cog in the Panthers secondary. Lamb was named Second Team All-GWOC last fall.

Wyatt Standifer, Jr, DB – We would expect nothing less from this namesake than to be a beast on defense. Standifer recorded 56 total tackles on his way to being a Special Mention All-GWOC selection as a sophomore.

Interesting Facts

Member of John Pirelli Lodge, Order of the Sons and Daughters of Italy #1633.

I am also interested in carpentry and gardening, even though I'm not great at either. I am a big reader of books on just about any topic.

Favorite Coaching Quote

On June 22, 1970 Vince Lombardi gave what would become his final public speech when he addressed the Dayton Agonis Club here in Dayton, OH. In it he concluded, "The difference between men is in energy, in the strong will, in a singleness of purpose, and an invincible determination. But the great difference is in sacrifice, in self-denial, in love and loyalty, in fearlessness and in humility, in the pursuit of excellence and in the perfectly disciplined will, because this is not only the difference between men, this is the difference between great and little men."

Growing up, was there an Athlete that you admired and wanted to emulate?

I had many athletes that I admired – Michael Jordan is probably the easy one. I also loved watching Ed Reed play football. In terms of a quarterback, I was a big Drew Brees fan starting with his time at Purdue. I guess I tried to emulate all of them in terms of how I played sports growing up.

Meet Coach Mike Savino

What do you enjoy most about coaching ?

What I enjoy most about coaching is the cumulative effect of the efforts of the school, team, and community. I appreciate being accountable as a member of a staff and assuming a role as a coach and maximizing it. I believe in self-denial, I enjoy the pursuit of improving my skills and in my knowledge of the game. I enjoy creating lasting relationships with players and their parents where I can have an impact in their lives beyond football. I enjoy the grind and the discipline.

Most Memorable Moment Playing Football

As a senior at Alter, we played our rivals Chaminade-Julienne in game 10 to decide the league title. We came into the game 8-1 and they were 9-0. They had one of the best teams I had ever seen play. The pregame was electric as we watched every seat at Dayton's Welcome Stadium fill up. An NFL great and Alter legend, Jeff Graham, walked in to talk to us before the game. He didn't have to say a word – his presence set us all off and we were banging at the doors to let us go play. Every single play of the game was important and we won on a last second field goal. It was truly a team effort to overcome such a great opponent and I've never forgotten the emotions involved in that game.

Most Memorable Moment Coaching Football

In 2016, I was then Offensive Coordinator at Hamilton Township High School when we defeated Chillicothe to advance to the Regional Finals. This was as deep into the playoffs as any team that had ever played at that particular school. To see the emotions on everyone's faces after that second playoff win made me look back on all the hard work, sacrifices, and overcoming of adversity by the members of the team that year.

What does Elk Pride mean to you ?

I am fortunate to have landed here at Centerville High School. I must admit that I did not intend on coaching here when I originally moved home to Dayton from Columbus, but Centerville took me in and I felt very valued by the school administration and coaching staff from the very start. I am still learning, but now that I have seen what Elk Pride looks like, I have never felt so at home. There is a high standard that all team members are challenged to meet every day. Rarely a day goes by that we don't speak of past players, coaches, or community members that had an impact on our program. To me, Elk Pride means paying homage to those who have gone before us by our words, actions, and behaviors. To uphold the core values of Humility, Effort, Attitude, Team, and Tradition so that we can guide those who come after us. And to support our school, our school's other sports and clubs, and all members of the student population and community who we can positively impact.

What is your Coaching Philosophy?

If I were to define my coaching philosophy, I would say that three things are at the core of my beliefs:

That there is no success without failure and how we react to our failures creates the person we will eventually become.

That talent is never enough. The will to improve, specifically through hard work, is the epitome of success.

That no member of the team is any more important than any other member of the team. I believe that football is the ultimate TEAM sport and if you don't buy into the value of being an equal member of the team, you will never learn the greatest lessons that the sport can reveal.

The Quarterback Club offers players, families, coaches and fans an opportunity to contribute to the success of the team with gifts, works, and spirited support for Centerville football. We are a service club dedicated to ELK PRIDE in our efforts to provide financial and volunteer support.

Quarterback Club membership primarily consists of the parents of past, present, and future Centerville High School football players. However, all community members and CHS football fans are welcome.

2022 Projects include:

$2,000 Player Scholarship

Team clothing and equipment including additional uniforms, team warm-ups, shirts, shoes, and player of the week award jackets.

Food including team breakfasts for playoff games, post scrimmage meals, food (steaks) for the Senior Dinner and Tailgate food before all home games.
